Hamilton Times Patterns

LADY'S ONE-PIECE - CORSET COVER AND ONE-PIECE DRAWERS.

Model Two - Practical Simple design for "Lingerie" Daily Nightgown. It is always pleasing to a woman, especially if good effect can be gained with little labor. The pattern here submitted are easy to develop and suitable for all lingerie fabrics. The corset cover and drawers are each one-piece models. Flouncing could be compared with lawn, or muslin, or cross-stitch dimity or batiste with deep edging and insertion. Ribbon run heading would trim and also hold the fulness of the cover. The drawers are cut in 6 sizes, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches bust measure. It requires 2 1/2 yds. 36-inch material for the medium size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Interest at Full Pitch in the Sale of WATER-DAMAGED GOODS

In spite of the fact that thousands of people have thronged the store over since last Thursday, the splendid stock is not half sold yet. Each night after the store is closed we dive deeper into the huge stock of slightly damaged goods still laying in our stock rooms and place them ready for rapid selling the following day. Interest does not flag, and we don't intend to allow it to do so. Every department has large quantities of goods to dispose of, and in order to give us room for the spring goods at the earliest possible moment, the prices are cut to a most compelling minimum.

Remember the goods are only slightly damaged by pure Hamilton water

"The Heir of the Dares"

Mr. Stephen Dare, the new owner of the Sedick Manor, had come into his own, and society in and around Hamilton was "buzzing" with the news. He was not the accepted type of the "new money," but he was a man of means, and he had not come into the title without making a name for himself. He was a man of means, and he had not come into the title without making a name for himself.

When Sir Richard, the late holder of the title, died, with no son to succeed him, his estate was divided into two parts. The one part was the Sedick Manor, and the other part was the Sedick estate. The Sedick Manor was the seat of the family, and the Sedick estate was the family's income.

There were really no other heirs to the title, but the Dares family had a claim. The Dares family had been the family of the Sedick estate for many years, and they had a claim on the Sedick estate. The Dares family had been the family of the Sedick estate for many years, and they had a claim on the Sedick estate.

Sir Richard had done his duty - he had been a good man, and he had been a good man. He had been a good man, and he had been a good man. He had been a good man, and he had been a good man. He had been a good man, and he had been a good man.

There was much talking over him and his prospects. Many old, half-forgotten stories about the late baronet were told. Many old, half-forgotten stories about the late baronet were told. Many old, half-forgotten stories about the late baronet were told.

But had Stephen Dare heard what was said both by the Dares family and the Sedick family? He had heard what was said both by the Dares family and the Sedick family. He had heard what was said both by the Dares family and the Sedick family.

There was a fine extent of park and shrubbery and the gardens and conservatories were famous for their beauty. The house was a good-sized building, with central tower and wings, and the roof was of red tiles. The house was a good-sized building, with central tower and wings, and the roof was of red tiles.

"Sir Richard was too conscientious to let a personal remark sink him to justice, my lady," he remarked. "Though he could not mind his brother in his lifetime, it did not surprise me when he gave me the instructions about his will that he hoped a nephew would succeed him. It is a pity he did not look up this young man sooner."

"I suppose this young man expects me to take him by the hand and introduce him around the country and in town?" she said scornfully, drawing herself up.

"I think not, my lady," he answered, quietly. "Do you mean to say that he wishes me to leave the house at once?" she demanded abruptly.

"Sir Stephen said nothing whatever about it when I saw him," replied Mr. Riddell, curiously. "But you are aware of government would see that the terms of the will. You are at liberty to occupy either the house or the house in St. Austin's, Hamilton."

"I shall stay where he objects or not," he answered, with intense interest. "I see no reason why I should not stay where he objects or not. I see no reason why I should not stay where he objects or not."

"You will let me know when you will move," he said to her. "You will let me know when you will move. You will let me know when you will move. You will let me know when you will move."

"I shall be glad to see you," he said to her. "I shall be glad to see you. I shall be glad to see you. I shall be glad to see you. I shall be glad to see you."

Music and the Drama

Its purpose seeming to be to demonstrate the loyalty of the Japanese to the Mikado and Japan, even to the extent of cheerfully suiciding, "Typhoon," a play written by the Japanese, was presented at the Grand Opera last evening with Laurence Irving as the leading role, ably assisted by Miss Mabel Hackney and a London company of much note. There were Japanese in the cast, too. There were Japanese in the cast, too. There were Japanese in the cast, too.

"Typhoon" is a peculiar play. It is not of the kind usually popular behind the footlights. It is full of the dramatic, from the opening curtain, and ends in the same manner when Laurence Irving, as Takarao, slaps himself and "chances his world." During the play Takarao had "chanced the world" of Mabel Hackney "felled" and, just to make it more realistic, that young lady did not appear on the stage thereafter, even for much deserved applause.

The distinguished English actor, playing the part of a Japanese, sent to France to learn secrets, for his country and surrounded by a number of other Japs, became convinced of a young lady, seemingly of rather unimpressive build and quietude. But whether she was the "private detective" playing a part was not entirely cleared up until the last minutes of the play. Apparently she was the former, and Takarao, to use a slang expression, "fell for her strong."

She betrayed him to some extent, delivered papers to another and several Japanese agents became convinced of it and Takarao was informed that he must cut her off. He agreed, but she, appearing in his study and exercising her wiles, won him over to the extent of forcing him to declare against his own country. Seeing she had him under her influence she suddenly reversed her attack by throwing a glove at the picture of the Mikado.

Scorned and laughed at, Takarao, became wild and in an uncontrollable fit of temper he killed the girl by strangling her. The acting of this part by Miss Mabel Hackney was splendid.

Confessing his part to his brother Japs, Takarao was instructed to go ahead with his work and a young Jap with no particular mission, was sent to the theatre for the crime. This young Jap seemed overly anxious to do so and was dressed in the costume, room, not a very judicious case, in that the preceding officer smoked a cigar and took matters rather easily in many respects, revealed the Japanese giving evidence and commenting on the younger Jap, who had resented against himself, in order that Takarao might go free.

The last act revealed Takarao, having finished his work, and, calling a council of his countrymen together, he stabbed himself.

Laurence Irving and Mabel Hackney were practically the only players who had opportunity to distinguish themselves. Harold Neville as Richard Beinsky, an eccentric writer, played a little of the comedy and took special notice at intervals that reflected great credit on him. But of Laurence Irving's performance is not to be missed. Adopting a Japanese accent, manner and appearance, he was at once dramatic, emotional and yet quiet. Mabel Hackney was among the best English actresses that have appeared in Hamilton. The audience was a decided disappointment in the management and players. About half a house attended, and the boxes were all empty. This play deserved liberal support and should receive it on Wednesday night when the performance will be repeated. "Typhoon," "The Unwritten Law" will be given an interpretation by Laurence Irving and his company and should be well patronized.

TIGER MINSTRELS

There will be a spectacular finish to the big cabaret minstrel show to be staged by the "Tigers" on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. It will consist of a drill, in which sixteen of the prettiest girls in the company, under the direction of Jack Combs, will go through a military drill, assisted by the entire company. Special costumes are being secured for this feature, and it promises to be a pleasing feature of the show. The big dancing act, in which Miss Gladys Robinson, Joe Isaac and Miss Walsh will be assisted by nine young ladies and five gentlemen, also promises to be a pleasing feature of the show. As will Miss Wilson, who will sing "They'll All Be Sorry That They Fished in Me." She makes an ideal Sis Hopkins, and as a comedienne has no superiors in the amateur ranks in this country. Rehearsals for the big show are being held each night at the hotel at 117 High Street south, and on Saturday for the general public. The advance sale will open at the Grand on Friday for ticket holders, and on Saturday for the general public. Judging by the demand for tickets, packed houses will be the order for the three performances.

"BROADWAY JONKS"

George M. Chohan's comedy, "Broadway Jonks," will be seen at the Grand next Friday and Saturday, seats for which go on sale to-morrow. Mr. Chohan's latest effort is a comedy devoid of slang, as that vernacular is particularly defunct, but it nevertheless contains enough smart and breezy chatter to keep the four acts in which it is written whirling along at a pace that keeps it astute the mark maintained in all Mr. Chohan's former efforts. At the opening of the play, "Broadway Jonks," is arriving home very late in a condition that could not be arrived at very early. Though he is positively supposed to be very rich, his continued attempts to "burn up Broadway" have left him a fortune, until the beginning of the play shows him penniless and heavily in debt. In order to rid himself of his numerous obligations he engages himself to a rich widow, old enough to be his mother, and though his friends try to break off the engagement, they do not succeed.

Then Jones, the hero, gets word that his uncle has died and left him a big property in the shape of a chewing tobacco factory in the community of England. In the final act of the play he goes to the factory and finds it a desire to sell his factory and continue on his wild career in the community of England. In the final act of the play he goes to the factory and finds it a desire to sell his factory and continue on his wild career in the community of England.

"Broadway Jonks," money-miser, man-about-town, becomes Jackson Jones, a factory owner and a respected citizen in his community.

"THE DEAR POOL"

Miss Eva Moore, the famous English actress whom, in conjunction with H. V. Kinnard, will appear at the Grand next Friday and Saturday, is the comedy of English life, "The Dear Pool," has had a most successful career upon the English stage. This will be her first appearance in this country. Miss Moore was born in the community of England. She made her first appearance upon the stage at the Vendell Theatre, London, as Varney in a play called "The Dear Pool," with immediate success and continued at the same theatre in "The Rag." She then played "The Rag" at the Vendell Theatre, London, as Varney in a play called "The Dear Pool," with immediate success and continued at the same theatre in "The Rag." THE LYRIC

For Wednesday and Thursday the management of the Lyric have secured a splendidly interesting two-part feature film called "The Lyric." The lead role will be played by Sydney Drew, formerly of the Vitaphone studio. There is plenty of comedy for one to enjoy in the presentation of this film, and the action is both swift and startling in its changes. Clara Kimball Young plays the part of the beautiful, bright young girl around whom the story revolves.

A GREAT WORK FOR MISSIONS

Noted Speakers at Gospel Tabernacle

THE SECOND COMING

Depends Upon Christianizing the World

In spite of the inclement weather the Sunday school room of Gospel Tabernacle church was well filled both afternoon and evening yesterday for the Religious Revival Movement. This movement is principally in aid of missions and to advance this movement three ministers, Rev. Paul Rader, Rev. R. A. Jago and Rev. Dr. A. Simpson, of New York, are travelling from place to place and speaking in aid of foreign missions.

TORY SQUELCHED BY MR. ROWELL

Sale of Liquor in the Ontario Club

INSPECTOR SNIDER'S

Visits to Scott Act Campaign Counties

Toronto, March 2.—During the brief sitting of the Legislature yesterday the order paper was cleared of a number of questions put by Opposition members in anticipation of the budget to-day. Hon. J. J. Roy stated that the total expenditure to date in connection with the Workmen's Compensation Commission, amounting to printing, was $8,021.77. The amount is made up as follows: 1911, $1,274.12; 1912, $2,626.65; 1913, $2,166.65.

Hon. W. J. Hanna gave the details of the presence of Provincial License Inspector W. K. Snider in the three counties that voted on the Ontario Temperance Act on January 23 last. Mr. Snider was in Peel county, at Brampton, on Jan. 23; he was in Three county, at Niagara, on Jan. 23; at Hamilton, on Jan. 24, and at Guelph, on the 25th; in Welland county, at Ridgeway, on the 26th, and at Stewiackton on the 27th. Mr. Hanna said he would discuss the whole situation in the evening.

Hon. W. H. Hearst stated that construction had been commenced on the Lake Huron & Northern Ontario Railway, although no money had been made to the department. No lands had so far been sold, neither had the department originated the manufacturing plants to be erected.

Leat. Col. T. M. Mayberry (South Ontario) introduced a bill along the line of the Liberal policy to amend the assessment act, to permit municipalities to have a differential assessment on lands and improvements. Another bill to amend assessment act was introduced by Mr. J. G. Anderson (North Bruce) to enable Township Councils by law to make tax policies on the same basis instead of having to be delivered by the tax collector. Mr. Anderson in another bill would give municipalities power to exclude motor vehicles from highways on certain hours of the day.

Another effort to enable litigants to proceed against the Times-Herald and Ontario Western Railway in the same manner as against any private corporation, without the necessity of securing a fiat from the Attorney-General, will be made by the Opposition. Mr. Rowell secured the first reading of a bill to amend the T. & N. O. act, in the House of Commons.

Mr. Rowell, on the orders of the day being called, took occasion to republish an erroneous statement recently published in the London Free Press, that the Ontario Club was the headquarters of the Liberal party, and making him personally responsible for the sale of liquor at the Ontario Club.

"I presume this statement," said Mr. Rowell, "must be based on the suggestion of the honorable member of West Hastings (Mr. J. W. Johnston) in the House of Commons, that the honorable member did not go so far as to say that the statement is entirely without foundation. The Ontario Club is not the official headquarters of the Liberal party of this province. It is a social club, organized in the same way as the Albany, the National or the Commercial Clubs. Its membership is composed of both Liberals and Conservatives.

In the second place, I am neither an officer nor a director of the club, and have no more say in its management than any other of the more than five hundred members; and, on the other hand, the Ontario Club, as such, has no say or voice in shaping the policy of the Liberal party.

I believe it is an exceedingly high class and well-run club, but like all other leading clubs in Toronto it has a few bad members. The hon. member for West Hastings asked the other day if I were doing anything to get this license cancelled. Permit me to say I have been doing my best, not only to secure the abolition of this license, but the abolition of every club in this province. My regret is that I have not received any support in so doing from the hon. member for West Hastings or any other member on the Government side of this House.

Mr. Rowell's statement was received with good-natured applause by the Conservative members. It is evident that throughout the session the Liberal members will have no opportunity of bringing the Temperance question to the front, and whenever the occasion presents itself will show the position occupied by both parties on the policy now before the country.

Toronto Case Has a Very Sinister Look

Young Russian Jewess the Alleged Victim

Toronto, March 2.—Charged with attempting to procure a young girl, Samuel and Annie Carwarner, alias Cohen, 8 Agnes Street, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Nowling and Wallace. The man, who was lodged in the Agnes street station, was released last night on $1,000 bail. The woman, who is at Court St. station, is still in the cells, no bail having been offered.

Penny Rosenberg, a 15-year-old Russian Jewess, is the complainant. In a recent interview she stated that about a week ago she obtained employment in Carwarner's ice cream parlor, the position being obtained through the medium of an employer, who made certain overtures, which she refused to entertain. "They then," she is alleged, threatened to lock her up in a room until she would comply with their wishes. Realizing her danger, she made her escape from the house early Thursday morning, the position being obtained through the medium of an employer, who made certain overtures, which she refused to entertain.

On hearing her story this woman communicated with the Associated Hebrew Charities, who commenced an investigation. The next morning information they ascertained was such that on Saturday they communicated with a differential assessment on lands and improvements. Another bill to amend assessment act was introduced by Mr. J. G. Anderson (North Bruce) to enable Township Councils by law to make tax policies on the same basis instead of having to be delivered by the tax collector.

THIRTEEN LIVES

Lost Around Philadelphia in Recent Storm

Philadelphia, March 2.—Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and Southern New Jersey are gradually recovering from the effects of the blizzard which raged from early yesterday until nearly nightfall to-day.

Thirteen deaths due to the storm were reported from this city, and near-by places. Three persons died from exposure and three others from accidents in the storm in Philadelphia. In Camden one man dropped dead while shovelling snow, and another was killed by a slow train. Three deaths were reported from Scranton.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION KILLS TWO

London, Ont. March 2.—Ratifiers here have notified a young man, Hamilton, Manitoba, that Samuel Kirk, aged forty-seven, and his daughter, Mabel, aged six, died, following an explosion caused by Mr. Kirk putting a sealed can of gasoline in the reservoir of the kitchen stove to warm when his engine refused to start. It exploded, set fire to his place, and he and his wife were killed. Mr. Kirk formerly resided at Kirkton, and was County Master of the Orangemen.

EXPRESSED OUR HANDS ROUGH & CHAPPED?

Carranza's Attitude Bothers Britain and U. S.

WILSON RESOLUTE

No Change in Policy of Watchful Waiting.

Washington, March 2.—An even more serious turn to a very serious situation has been produced, by the attitude of General Carranza. In regard to the case of William B. Benton, the British ranchman killed at General Francisco Villa's headquarters in Juarez on Feb. 17, General Carranza, as stated yesterday, refused to permit the investigation into Benton's death to progress unless either the British or American Governments apply directly to him.

Carranza has taken the stand that all dealings between the Constitutional authorities and the foreign Governments must be through him as "first chief." Hereafter the United States Government, in taking measures concerning Americans and other foreigners in Constitutional territory, has dealt with the local Constitutional commanders. Carranza's position is that local commanders must heretofore be ignored, and that all such cases be taken up with the central authorities, of which he is the recognized head.

Compliance with what Carranza demands means that by the very act of the compliance the Constitutional rights of the Constitutionalists will be recognized. Great moral alarm is given to the revolutionary cause through such recognition by the United States or Great Britain. It probably would mean also that if Carranza should put down the revolutionary cause the United States or Great Britain would be able to legally claim damages for heirs of their citizens killed in Constitutional territory, or injury to their property.

President Wilson, however, greatly worried over the new turn given to the situation, declared to-day that there would be no change in his policy of watchful waiting. He said that there would be well to those clamoring for armed intervention not to forget that what they wanted done was done by themselves, and at a sacrifice of what action would mean to brothers, sons and grandsons.

He reiterated his confidence that a continuation of his policy would bring about the end of the domination of General Huerta from power, and eventually he showed that the Administration would resist to the utmost any effort to force to its aid drastic measures towards ending Mexican anarchy. In the President's opinion this Government is in no such powerful enough to wait as long as it pleases.

President Wilson, according to reports made at the White House to-day, regards Carranza's stand as "academic," and based on nothing more than a desire to have his vanity tickled by a recognition of his supreme authority in the Constitutional movement. But this view is not shared by many outside the White House. Carranza's attitude is considered by them to be a clear move to force two great Governments to recognize the Constitutional movement, and thus strengthen it materially and generally.

BRIKAR ORDERS A HALT

London, March 2.—Secretary of State Bryan has ordered the commission-inquiring into the circumstances surrounding the death of William B. Benton to wait at El Paso, France, until the 15th of March. The Secretary of the Foreign Office, made this announcement in the House of Commons to-day.

He said the British Government had been informed from Washington that the Secretary considers it unsafe for the commissioners to proceed.

ORGANS INVERTED

Virginia Woman is Puzzling the Surgeons

Elkins, W. Va., March 2.—When surgeons operated on Mrs. Laura Cassel, of Wheeling, at the hospital here to-day they found her internal organization just the reverse of that of all other normal human beings.

She was operated on for appendicitis, and her appendix was found to be on the left side instead of the right. It was also found that the liver was on the right side instead of the left, the liver on the left side, and strange as it all, the heart was on the right side.

Surgeons stated that the woman would recover.

KING'S CAT CAUSES STRIKE

Norfolk, England, March 2.—The recent act of King George in raising the wages of the laborers on the Royal farms in Norfolk and granting them a Saturday half-day has caused a strike of farm laborers on the Royal farm at Sandringham because the tenant farmers declined to follow his example, although they had been asked to do so by the Royal landlord. The laborers on the King's own farms are greatly in sympathy with the strikers.

THIRTEEN SAILORS DROWNED. Cuban, Germany, March 2.—Thirteen members of the crew of the Norwegian bark Tasmant perished to-day in the North Sea when the bark capsized. News of the disaster reached here to-day. When a fishing steamer came into port bringing six men of the Tasmant's crew, the only persons who survived the wreck.

One thorough application of Zam-Buk at night will bring you up to the mark. Zam-Buk stops the itching, heals the cracks and makes the hands smooth.

Mr. A. J. Phillips, of New York City, writes: "I suffered terribly from cracked hands for some time. I applied Zam-Buk at night and in a few days my hands were as smooth as a baby's. I am almost as soon as applied. Now my hands are quite smooth."

Also see booklet for full details of the use of Zam-Buk. Write for it free.

"DRYS" GAIN ONE

Peel County Scrutiny Was Quickly Ended

Ballots Were Numbered in One Division

Brampton, March 1.—Just one more vote was added to the former "dry" majority of fifty-seven at the recent Peel County Councils temperance contest, as the scrutiny conducted by His Honor Judge McElbrien in the town hall here to-day, at the instance of Mr. W. E. Allen, secretary of the Licensed Victuallers' Association of Ontario.

The final figures are:

For Against
Brampton	421 448
Steeleville	51 36
Cleunguebury	510 303
Albion	392 291
Calodon	399 412
Toronto Township	75 117
Toronto Township	68 73
Butterton	2,430 2,272

Majority for 58. The original count was for 2,400 against 2,260, and the changes indicated by the several losses and gains sustained by both parties. Brampton lost two "wet" votes, but being discarded they did not get into the hands of the "drys."

SOME BALLOTS NUMBERED

A peculiar incident characterized the afternoon session. When the ballot box containing the vote cast by No. 7 polling station (Palestine) Toronto township, was opened, it was found that each ballot paper bore the number which should have appeared upon the counterfoil. The deputy returning officer at the booth was Mr. John Graham.

This individual count gave the opponents of the act a majority of 12. Mr. Justin submitted that the whole contents of the box be cast aside, and that every ballot be identified, as actually was the case with a few. Mr. Haveron, however, considered that a definitive investigation was impossible without first obtaining a signed receipt from the voters. A compromise was effected satisfactory to both sides, and the count was allowed to stand, as it in no way affected the result.

SCRUTINY QUICKLY OVER

Contrary to expectation, the scrutiny was accomplished in a few hours. Both sides were eager to accomplish the task as expeditiously as possible. Commencing at 11 o'clock, the boxes were rapidly opened and the contents counted. No arguments whatever punctuated the operations.

"Everything was accomplished in a regular manner," declared Judge McGibbon at the conclusion. If there have been any irregularities they were due to the apparent neglect of the deputy returning officers, who failed to tear off the counterfoils in many instances.

As an alleged justification of his plea that the opponents of the act should not pay the court costs, Mr. Haveron urged that the directors of the act, who already mentioned was sufficient to justify the scrutiny. It was afterwards decided that Mr. Haveron should pay just the actual court fees.

It All Depends on the Liver

So important is the liver and so great is its influence on the vital organs of the body that it may be said you have little to fear from the ordinaryills of life so long as the liver is in healthy working order. The digestive processes are so dependent on free action of the liver that any derangement of this organ soon brings trouble.

Indigestion and constipation follow, with headache and depressed spirits. Additional work is done on the kidneys, and soon the whole eliminating system is deranged and the blood turns yellow. Through the body. Careful eating is a great help towards keeping the liver right, but when it does not work there is nothing like Dr. Cassel's Kidney-Liver Pills to restore the liver to healthy action. With the removal of its bile by the liver, constipation and biliousness are cured, and the digestive and excretory systems are set in order. It is wonderful the benefit obtained by a few doses of Dr. Cassel's Kidney-Liver Pills under these circumstances. A trial will convince you of their superior merit.

20 TONS OF DYNAMITE WENT OFF

Last week the last big barrier at the Panama Canal was blasted with 20 tons of dynamite, and now the work of removing the remaining millions of cubic yards of debris goes speedily on—and will so continue until the dyke at Gamboa is removed next October. EARLY CLOSING
AMONG GROCERSStrong Feeling In Favor of Wednesday Afternoons.

E. M. TROWERN HERE

Thinks the Law Does Not Go Far Enough.

Jameson, enough the chair at night at a meeting of grocers and butchers of the city in the Y. M. C. A. building to discuss the matter of early closing one day of each week. Mr. Jameson said he had been in Toronto for two days conferring with the Retail Merchants' Association, and they had drawn up resolutions to be presented to the Legislature asking them to compel all municipalities to order the stores in their several controls to close at 1 p.m. on one day in each week.

Mr. Sharp did not like the idea of a law, but if all the other traders in their line of business in the city signified their intention of closing then he was quite willing to fall in line with them.

Mr. E. M. Trowern explained some little grievance which he had with one of the officials of the local Grocers' Association, and which was the reason why he was not at the meeting. He said that the other tradesmen in his vicinity were willing to close on Wednesday, but he was not. He said also that a city law would not hold water as far as he was concerned in forcing the men to close their stores, and the only way to have such legislation was to obtain it from the Legislature.

A. C. Mason said he was heartily in favor of the movement, and that he had been in business here had closed his store on Wednesday afternoons. He said he did not favor forcing people to close against their will, but they would find that if they did close they would lose out on Saturday by doing so. The competitors in their neighborhood had refused to close their stores, and he would not be the only one still in the city on Saturday.

The matter of closing on Wednesday afternoon was discussed in a very practical manner, as the assistants were dissatisfied when that time was over, and it was an advantage either to the retailer or the employer to have any dissatisfaction in the store.

Mr. Trowern, Dominion secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, said that he liked the manner in which the merchants of the city were entering into this matter. It was a matter which called for careful handling. If 75 per cent. of the tradesmen of a city in any one line of business agreed to close on Wednesday afternoon, he would not be the only one still in the city on Saturday.

Be Considered.

The working of the Windsor Hotel as a restaurant to the credit of the new Royal Bank Connaught will commence April 1. Announcement to that effect was made at the meeting of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon, when various matters were given consideration, but chief interest centered in the remarks of H. L. Frost, as to the new hotel scheme.

Mr. Frost declared that a man had been sent to England to dispose of the bonds of the new hotel, but had been unsuccessful. He said the local men get busy, and invited to Hamilton a representative of a large commercial concern, the identity of which Mr. Frost would not disclose, but it was intimated that the Metropolitan Insurance Company was the concern.

A communication from G. C. Martin suggested the organizing of a junior board of trade, who could handle the local matters of interest and submit to the parent body. Several of the members spoke in favor of the scheme, and it was decided to hold a meeting to consider the matter being referred to Mr. Martin as chairman.

East Gwillimbury Township Hit by a Fire.

Queenville, March 2.—The township of East Gwillimbury has suffered an irreparable loss in the complete destruction of all the papers in a fire which consumed the office and also the home of Mr. A. McKenzie, Township Clerk, at an early hour this morning.

The house of Mr. Thompson, some three hundred yards away, was the center of the fire, and the fire was the cause of the loss. The township is, of course, without a clerk, and the loss is a heavy one. The Mount Albert Telephone Co., Limited, losses to the extent of about $250, with no insurance. Mr. McKenzie's loss to his home is about $1,000, with insurance unknown.

QUEBEC MINISTER SWORN IN March 2.—Joseph A. Tupper, Deputy Speaker of the Quebec Assembly, was sworn in as a member of the Quebec Government, and the position of Minister of Roads, and attended his first Cabinet meeting today.

He will seek reelection for Three Years, where the nomination takes place on the 11th inst. He will probably be re-elected.

PETROLEUM HOUSE BURNED.
March 2.—The home of William Mackenzie, 100 Queen St. W., was burned to the ground this morning. The blaze originated in the chimney, and spread rapidly to the main body of the house. Before Mr. Mackenzie could get out, the fire had spread to the roof, and the house was a mass of flames. A number of the neighbors from the houses on the opposite side of the street, looking through a window and the fire was extinguished.

Much time of the Board of Control was taken up this morning in connection with regulations regarding lumber yards. W. L. Gray, of West & Gray, asked for permission to pile lumber on a lot at the corner of York and Caroline streets. On the lot no piling of any kind will be erected.

A. J. Smith applied for permission to pile lumber on his ground on Sherman avenue north. Inspector Anderson claimed that Mr. Smith had stopped piling lumber there since a recent fire, but Mr. Smith claimed that such was not the case. Both these matters will be inquired into and reported on by a sub-committee.

The Long Lumber Company were not granted permission to carry on a lumber business in the southeast end of the city as no insurance meeting of the matter will have to be further looked into.

W. Winder was granted permission to erect a store on Northway avenue, so long as he keeps his store clean to the present building line.

A letter was read from those who are endeavoring to celebrate the centennial by erecting a monument to that celebrated saint known as the city of Hamilton's birthday cake. No action was taken.

Society

It was a delightful experience for the onlooker as well as for the participant to have enjoyed the exhibition that the fancy dress carnival given by the Hamilton Skating Club at Abner's rink afforded. It was a very successful affair, the program being the page of the fair tale or journeying with Gulliver to the land of the Makhobore. The pictures in reality were three-moving pictures it is true—but with a realism that made the average person who was not a member of the club feel as if he were actually there.

The fourth annual meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. O. F., was held last evening at the Hamilton Skating Club. The program was a very successful one, the page of the fair tale or journeying with Gulliver to the land of the Makhobore.
